

New Developments in Lattice Effective Field Theory

Friday, 1 June 2018 15:20 (20 minutes)

I discuss new progress in performing first principles lattice simulations of nuclear systems using the framework of effective field theory. Some of the topics to be covered are the connections between bare nuclear forces and nuclear structure and a new algorithm for studying the thermodynamics and spectra of nuclei.

E-mail

lee.dean.j@gmail.com

Collaboration name

Nuclear Lattice Effective Field Theory Collaboration

Funding source

Department of Energy

Primary author: Prof. LEE, Dean (Michigan State University)

Presenter: Prof. LEE, Dean (Michigan State University)

Session Classification: NFS / QCDHS

Track Classification: NFS